

Lustau East India Solera

Description

In centuries gone by, casks of sherry were lashed to ships sailing for the Indies as ballast, and were found to develop an extraordinary smoothness and complexity. Lustau has revived this style of sherry in the East India wine. Unforgettable flavours of raisins, candied peel and nuts. Robert Parker's comment: "Nutty, sweet, crème brûlée smell." Awarded Silver Medal at IWC 2004.

When To Drink it

Perfect companion to light desserts and cakes, but can also be served with cheeses, or simply as a sweet digestif.

How To Serve it

Serve at cool room temperature.

Strength

20% by volume

Grape Variety

Palomino Fino, sweetened with Pedro Ximenez

www.emilio-lustau.com